Bogdan Ștefănescu is a professor of English at the University of Bucharest, a fellow of New Europe College, and a grantee of the British Council, the University of London, the University of Stuttgart, and the European Commission. He is currently a Fulbright Visiting Scholar with Florida Atlantic University where he will be teaching a seminar in “Neo-nationalist” and “Populist” Discourses of Identity in the Post-Cold War Age.