

2023-2024 GLOBAL ADVOCACY CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

THEME ADVANCING INCLUSION

The Global Advocacy Certificate Program (GACP) is a leadership development opportunity for all ASU faculty and staff. GACP participants will broaden their awareness of intercultural topics and learn specific strategies for supporting culturally and linguistically diverse (CLD) students and scholars in the classroom and workplace to promote a more inclusive community for all.

To earn a certificate as a Global Advocate, participants should register for and attend the Foundations workshop (offered in fall or spring) plus at least three (3) electives (see next page) during an academic year. All offerings are free of charge and fill on a first-come, first-served basis. Participants can earn certificates every year.

Participants in the GACP will increase:

- awareness of campus resources for CLD students
- strategies to serve as advocates for CLD students
- proficiencies to create more inclusive cultures

WHO

All ASU faculty and staff are invited to attend workshops for ongoing learning, regardless of their intentions to receive a certificate.

They are encouraged, but not required, to attend GACP electives. Participants can enroll in the Advanced GACP during fall or spring and can earn certificates every semester.

DESCRIPTION To develop a community of practice, and using a Cultural Intelligence (CI) Map as a guide, Advanced GACP participants engage in strategic conversation to learn how to better demonstrate and advance inclusion.
