

Thursday, June 13

9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. EST

In-Person

Free | Open to the Public

Keynote Speaker

Joseph McGill

Founder and Executive Director
The Slave Dwelling Project

The 2024 Race, Place and Civic Genealogies Symposium is inspired by the illuminating Washington Post 2022 series on the histories of US elected officials and their descendants linked to enslavement.

Join us for an all-day symposium that explores the emancipatory power of genealogy, American histories of freedom and self-emancipation, civic engagement that expands our shared understanding of race, place and American democracy.

Location

ASU in Washington, D.C.

ASU Barrett and O'Connor Washington Center
8th Floor Pavilion
1800 I St. NW, Washington, D.C. 20006

join the conversation

For more information call the Center for the Study of Race and Democracy at 602-496-1376 or email csrd@asu.edu

Featured Speakers

Lois Brown, PhD

Director
ASU Center for the Study of Race and Democracy

Carole Coles Henry

City of Phoenix Director of the Office of Equal Opportunity (Retired)

L'Merchie Frazier

Visual Artist
Executive Director of Creative / Strategic Planning for SPOKE Arts, Boston

Dreisen Heath

Racial Justice Advocate

Caitlyn Hunter

Assistant Professor
College of Southern Maryland

Jeanne Morrow

Founding Director
Hush Arbor Heritage Farm

Gayle Pemberton, PhD

Professor Emeritus
Wesleyan University

Julie Zaumer Weil

The Washington Post

Register now!
csrd.asu.edu

