Get Out

Film Screening and Discussion

A surprise cinematic sensation in 2017, “Get Out” blends elements of the horror genre with a biting critique of the state of racial discourse and politics in American culture. This film, equal parts gripping thriller and provocative commentary, asks viewers to question what they “know” about the world, evaluate their own worldview and examine social injustices.

Join us for a screening of “Get Out,” followed by discussion that will explore the central themes, how and why it became a smash hit, and what it means for us now and moving forward.
