The ASU School of Community Resources and Development will be hosting a public talk with Dr. Julian Agyeman to explore the topic of just sustainabilities.

Just Sustainabilities in Policy, Planning and Practice

Monday April 15, 2019
2:30pm-3:45pm
University Center, Room 822A
Downtown Phoenix Campus, 411 N. Central Ave.

Julian Agyeman is a Professor of Urban and Environmental Policy and Planning at Tufts University.

He centers his research on critical explorations of the complex and embedded relations between humans and the urban environment, whether mediated by governments or social movement organizations, and their effects on public policy and planning processes and outcomes, particularly in relation to notions of justice and equity.

He is the author or editor of 11 books, including Just Sustainabilities: Development in an Unequal World (MIT Press, 2003), Sustainable Communities and the Challenge of Environmental Justice (NYU Press, 2005), Cultivating Food Justice: Race, Class and Sustainability (MIT Press, 2011), and Sharing Cities: A Case for Truly Smart and Sustainable Cities (MIT Press, 2015), one of Nature’s Top 20 Books of 2015.
