Websites are a must in 2021, however, most people find it incredibly difficult to create a website that is short, sweet, and, most importantly, achieves a specific outcome. Nico De Bruyn, co-founder and CEO of Boundless Media, will be breaking down what elements to include in a high-performing website and how you can take those elements into your next website buildout.

Nico De Bruyn is a marketer and entrepreneur with a flair for leaving everyone he meets better off than he found them. He is often touted as the guy who can sell anything; he even once sold empty Apple iPhone and MacBook boxes online. Nico is passionate about taking hard marketing concepts and breaking them down into easy principles. Additionally, Nico De Bruyn is the cofounder of Boundless Media and author of “We’re All Marketers.”
