

Film Series

Integrating Refugees: Understanding a Global Question

A mini film series of five films (documentary and features) that engage questions and issues surrounding migration, identity, and cultural integration. Through a focus on individual stories and events from Germany, Russia, China, Italy, and Latin America, the series will offer a comparative exploration of global sociopolitical questions about refugees with an eye to humanizing those questions, and seeing through them different national approaches to refugees.

Germany: Wir sind jung. Wir sind stark / We are Young. We are Strong (2014), Burhan Qurbani, dir.

Thursday, October 12, 2017, 4:30 pm, WGHL 201

Introduced by: Daniel Gilfillan, German Studies/Film and Media Studies

Russia: Другое небо / Another Sky (2010), Dmitrii Mamuliia, dir.

Thursday, October 19, 2017, 4:30 pm, WGHL 201

Introduced by: Ana Hedberg Olenina, Russian/Film and Media Studies

China: 二十四城记 / 24 City (2008), Jia Zhangke, dir.

Thursday, October 26, 2017, 4:30 pm, WGHL 201

Introduced by: Angie Chau, Chinese

Italy: 18 IUS Soli: Il dritto di essere Italiani / 18 IUS Soli: The Strange Case of Citizenship in Modern Italy (2011), Fred Kuwornu, dir.

Thursday, November 2, 2017, 4:30 pm, WGHL 201

Introduced by: Juliann Vitullo, Italian

Post-Screening Discussion with Filmmaker Fred Kuwornu

Mexico: La jaula de oro / Golden Dream (2013), Diego Quemada-Díez, dir.

Thursday, November 9, 2017, 4:30 pm, WGHL 201

Introduced by: Cynthia Tompkins, Spanish/Latin American Studies

School of International Letters and Cultures
School of Historical, Philosophical and Religious Studies