Jerome E. Singerman
Ph.D., Harvard
Senior Humanities Editor at the University of Pennsylvania Press

Scholarly Publishing at the Crossroads
How Did We Get Here, and What Are the Ways Forward?

FOR INFO & REGISTRATION VISIT singerman.eventbrite.com

Please join us for an overview and conversation about the history of American university presses; how a conjunction of various forces has led to a huge, if crisis-driven, increase in the number of books published by university presses over the past four decades; why structural change seems inevitable; and what strengths of the old system we need to preserve and what pitfalls we need to avoid. A light lunch will be served.

In addition to the main talk on Wednesday, additional opportunities exist for Graduate Students and Faculty to meet with Dr. Singerman on Thursday. Register for all events at singerman.eventbrite.com

The Scholarly Publishing Speaker Series is made possible by the generosity of our co-sponsors

PLUS ON THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15

Graduate Students are invited to join an informal conversation about converting your dissertation into a book

Faculty are invited to meet one-on-one with Dr. Singerman to discuss their book proposals