

Roundtable: Russia's invasion of Ukraine

School of Politics and Global Studies

Center on the Future of War

Eight years after annexing Crimea, and after several months of mobilization, Russia invaded Ukraine on Feb. 24, 2022. Ukrainian resistance has been surprisingly effective, as has international cooperation to impose an unprecedented suite of devastating sanctions against Putin's regime. Join ASU School of Politics and Global Studies faculty for a discussion of the invasion, with focus on the prospects for Ukraine's survival, consequences for Putin's tenure in office, and the effects of sanctions on Russian oligarchs and citizens.

March 21, 2022
12:00pm Arizona time on Zoom

RSVP:

links.asu.edu/UkraineRoundtable

Panelists

Margaret Hanson
Assistant Professor
Arizona State University

Timothy Peterson
Associate Professor
Arizona State University

Candace Rondeaux
Professor of Practice
Arizona State University

Thorin Wright
Associate Professor
Arizona State University