

WORDS on wheels

The Power of Personal Stories

Saturday, October 6, 2018 | 10 a.m. – 1 p.m.

Burton Barr Library | Pullium Auditorium
1221 N. Central Ave. Phoenix

“One writes out of one thing only—one’s own experience.”

– James Baldwin

Personal stories matter, perhaps now more than ever. In this workshop, you will discuss the political and social import of writing about yourself, and how to do so in a way that feels artistic instead of narcissistic. You will complete short exercises designed to help you access important memories and resurrect them on the page, and then the group will discuss ways to get our stories out into the real world—where they really matter.

ASU faculty will be on-hand to assist with your writing and will review any written document.

Presented by

Sarah Viren, PhD

Author of the essay collection “Mine;”
Assistant Professor, College of Integrative Sciences and Arts
Arizona State University

Free | Open to the Public | Lunch provided

Register at csrd.asu.edu/PersonalStories

or call 602-496-1376

csrd.asu.edu

join the conversation

   CSRDatASU
#WordsOnWheels

MARICOPA
COMMUNITY COLLEGES

ASU Center for the Study of Race and Democracy
Arizona State University